“ Zoe was an incredible woman. She is greatly missed in the lives of everyone that knew her, and my prayers go out to her family. It truly made me sad to hear of her passing.

“ Zoe was always generous and helped me tremendously in a musical we were in as teenagers. she helped me in audition and loaned me music. I didn't have any music, and no training, but I got the singing part because of her kindness, sometimes rare with teenagers. I also enjoyed visiting her mom at Kearns drugstore in the 60's. I had to have a certain kind of hairspray and she knew what kind "just wonderful," saying "My daughter just makes a cloud of that spray." Not long ago Zoe sang at my Aunt Elizabeth Pooles Funeral, but It was good seeing her on that sad day. We reminisced . So sorry to hear of her passing.

“ Zoe was such a wonderful person that never met a stranger. She made you feel important no matter what the situation. She loved people and helping others. She will be missed so very much by our entire community. She taught my daughter voice, modeling, and many other aspects of character. So sorry to hear of our loss. Zoe always saw good in everyone.

My daughter was Fall Festival Princess under her direction, organizing and supervision.

“ "There are no words to describe the beauty and love brought to every individual Zoe encountered. There are so very many people she touched. She immensely loved her Randolph Community Choir which she started approximately 11 years ago. Although very sick, she still gathered enough strength to come and practice with the choir, also accompanying us to various nursing homes, the Veterans 2019 Parade in Asheboro and other places. She leaves a large void in our lives, but we definitely know she is in the palms of His hands and singing with her sweet and wonderful voice. She added so much to my life and I was truly blessed to know her well. May her family be comforted in the following days." Anne Evans

“ Zoe was a beautiful lady and a tremendous influence on so many people in Asheboro and Randolph County. She mentored lots of people - acting, music, teaching - and was terrific in everything she did. Zoe had a beautiful voice - another natural gift from God. She is singing better than ever in Heaven. Asheboro will miss her influence.

“ My heart was saddened to hear about Zoe Faircloth's passing. I had the great pleasure of knowing her. She was very instrumental in making me into the person that I am today. I met her when I was about 13 years old. I was a very shy and awkward, skinny girl with huge glasses, braces and frizzy hair! She taught me poise and presence. She encouraged me to participate in the Junior Miss program where I learned public speaking and how to conduct myself in interviews. When I left Asheboro for college in 1985, Zoe had helped to shape me into a confident young woman. It was nice to catch up with her via Facebook. I would often tell my husband how I wanted to visit Zoe in Asheboro and take her out to lunch to catch up. I had no idea that she was sick. I regret not acting upon my desire. Zoe Faircloth made this world a better place by sharing her talents and shaping young hearts. She will be missed!

“ Kim, I have fond memories of Zoe and your family. My grandparents, Gurney and Lula Kindley were good friends of your mother and daddy. I always loved to go with my grandparents to visit your parents. I would go in Zoe's bedroom and pretend I was in a beauty pageant with her crown. Zoe and I reconnected some years ago and had fun talking about our families enjoying visits with each other!! She was a dear lady and I'll never forget her!! God bless you all!

“ Zoe was indeed one of a kind! During my teens the person I most admired and wanted to be like was Zoe! Beautiful, smart, so talented, loved Jesus, compassionate, plus she drove a wonderful little sports car....she was a great role model for many young ladies! Modeling classes, fashion shows, tea room modeling for Tobias, freeze modeling, pageants, Belks, and all the special events inbetween! I enjoyed our regular lunches and travels! She rushed to the hospital and waited for Britt to be born and declared she was her God Mother and pledged music lessons forever! She loved on Britt and was excited when Britt chose Liberty University following in her footsteps! Zoe will never be replaced nor forgotten! Thanks to my mom for finding a great role model during those important years! While I shed a tear - my heart is happy knowing she is with Jesus!

“ Miss Zoe was one of the few unconditional love-girls I've had the honor to know and love right back. This amazing patriot was always in my corner, and always had a stash of treats for Mongo Sidekick, my service dog. Her faithfulness in our veteran community never wavered; she is one of the few who truly tracked with my mission. I adored her and she brought great joy to my heart whenever I saw her. Even as her health declined, her faith in a healing and in her God was steady as she goes- Just Like Zoe. Last time I saw her in a Veteran's Council Meeting, she was giving Mongo his treat stash and declared she would stay in office and press on. Miss Zoe shared her wisdom with me on several matters and she had insight and grace on so many things I found hard to process, but was able to do so with her support and encouragement. I see her as a "founding mother" in our community here; she was a testimony to her faith exhibiting kindness and strength always. I know she is dancing and singing near the Throne of Glory but I still will miss her greatly. Beth Angel and Mongo

“ I first met Zoe at the American Legion Veterans Memorial service at the old Court House in Asheboro, many years back. She sang the Star Spangled Banner, in all verses. I had never knew there were other verses other than one. She had the most beautiful voice and displayed the greatest respect for all Veterans and Americans. She was an Angel, who served us without any fee or compensation, her gifts were always done as a gift God had given her to share with others. This world is at a loss for such a kind and gentle lady. I will remember her forever and her talents of voice, service and friendship she shared. May God send Angels to surround the family at this difficult time and provide for needs. God Bless you Zoe, thanks for all you gave us. R.I.P. WILLIAM A. LONG JR, Member of American Legion Post #45, Asheboro,
